

More than you think....

CJAS lists six associate editors on our editorial board that handle papers from the following areas:

- Marketing
- Interdisciplinary
- Finance
- Accounting
-
- Organizational behaviour and human resource management
- Strategic management
- International business

In addition to these areas, the CJAS editorial board also has members with expertise in the following fields, broadly defined:

- Information systems
- Operation decision sciences
- Gender and diversity in organizations
- Critical management studies

If submitting to one of these areas, simply indicate in the cover letter section of the submission page of Scholar One to which area you feel your paper falls. Submit as an interdisciplinary paper, and your paper will be handled accordingly.